"We're excited to welcome these 66 nonprofits to the GlobalGiving Community," said Mari Kuraishi, President and Co-Founder of GlobalGiving. "We believe that good ideas can come from anyone, anywhere, at any time, and we look forward to supporting our new partners as they work to create change around the world. We're committed to providing tools, training, and support as they learn, grow and become more effective."

The new projects on GlobalGiving range from a sending a polar expedition to free the oceans from plastic, to securing life-changing scholarships for individuals from vulnerable political and socioeconomic backgrounds, to providing a safe space for girls at risk of physical and sexual abuse in Colombia.

"We are delighted that we completed the [Accelerator]. There was a point when we felt we might just not make it, but then we persisted, we innovated and kept asking. Yes, we have done it. We would like to thank all the donors and the fundraisers who put up their hands for us! We'd also would like to thank the team at GlobalGiving for their constant support and encouragement. Looking forward to doing more campaigns on this platform!"
